Contents

Letter from Dean Chien-pin Li ................................................................. 3

Letter from the Editor ........................................................................... 5

A Sociolinguistic Approach to Pygmalion: Eliza’s Bidialectalism .......... 7
Madisyn Beilowitz, English

Effectiveness of a Low-Dose Mindfulness Intervention for College Students: Does Major Play a Role? ......................................................... 27
Monique Boodram, Psychology

The Relationship Between Mindfulness and Happiness for Diverse College Students ................................................................. 39
Ava Galarza and Amberley Payne, Psychology

Why Do Hispanic Serving Institution Websites Need to Be Bilingual in Spanish? .................................................................................. 49
Ximena Minaya, Spanish

What’s Important to Justice?: An Examination of Cultural Values .... 83
Jalen North, Philosophy

Agriculture as Mutualism ....................................................................... 97
Cameron Walden, Philosophy

Sound and the Reading Experience: Examining the Effects of Sound on Reading a Digital Graphic Narrative .............................................. 105
Kiara Williams, Technical Communication

The Cafe on the Corner ........................................................................ 125
Christina Ellison, Editor; Creative Writing, Editing, and Publishing

Call for Submissions ........................................................................ 131